How we work

Power to your creation

Only Element Ltd. is a trusted European supplier of premium natural stone for the construction, architecture, and public infrastructure sectors.

Our production is anchored in Vietnam, where we've established long-term partnerships with skilled factories known for both technical and craftsmanship excellence. Every step of the process is carefully monitored by our team to maintain consistency and uphold the highest standards. This synergy allows us to control costs while maintaining high quality, providing exceptional value to our EU customers—ensuring not just a consistent supply, but a process that respects your time, your design vision, and your resources.

Your Partner in Success

At Only Element, we don't just supply stone we deliver tailored solutions built on expertise and trust. Our team understands the specific demands of industrial and architectural projects across Europe. From consultation to delivery, we provide precise guidance, responsive service, and lasting support every step of the way.

Sustainable by Nature. Ethical by Choice.

Partnering with us means shaping stone, sustaining lives, and respecting nature.

Our stone is responsibly sourced and processed using low-energy, water-efficient methods free from chemical treatments and VOCs. Certified to EU sustainability standards, it is built to last and supports healthier environments. In Vietnam, we collaborate with skilled artisans under fair and ethical conditions, helping preserve traditional craftsmanship while fostering long-term community development.

Gallery

Natural stone has long shaped the world's most enduring spaces — valued for its strength, beauty, and lasting performance. At Only Element, we deliver tailored stone solutions, combining traditional craftsmanship with modern precision to meet the demands of today's architecture and infrastructure projects.

Performance Built for Europe's Climate

From freezing winters to heavy rainfall and hot summers, Europe's climates demand resilient materials. We guide you in selecting and detailing natural stone to ensure structural integrity, long-term performance, and enduring aesthetics.

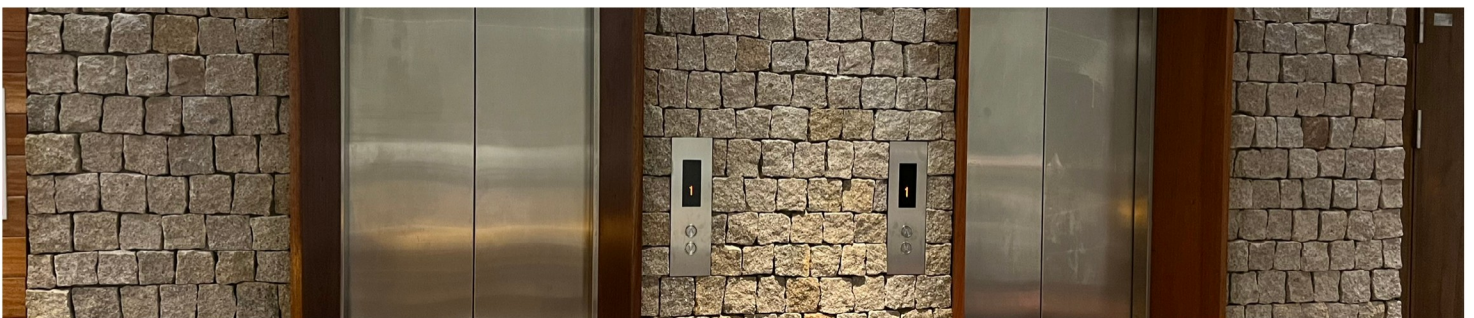

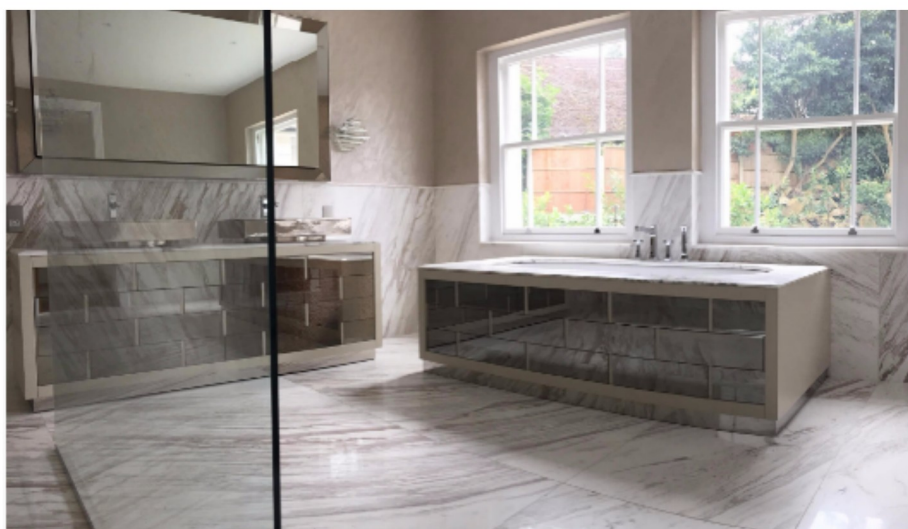

Shaping Sustainable, Inclusive Spaces

Today's projects must deliver more than visual appeal. Our custom stone solutions help you meet the EU's standards for sustainability and accessibility—supporting public and private developments with compliant, future-ready designs.

Natural Stone Facades: Beauty with Purpose

Stone facades combine structural resilience, energy efficiency, and timeless value. Durable and low-maintenance, they align with sustainable construction goals while preserving architectural authenticity.

It all begins with understanding your requirements.

At Only Element, we work closely with you—from early specification through on-site supervision—to ensure that every surface, finish, and detail aligns with your project requirements and design vision.

The Acoustic Strength of Stone

Stone's natural density offers superior sound insulation—enhancing comfort and performance in cultural venues, public infrastructure, and commercial spaces.

Materials

For the latest updates on material availability, please visit our website: onlyelement.eu

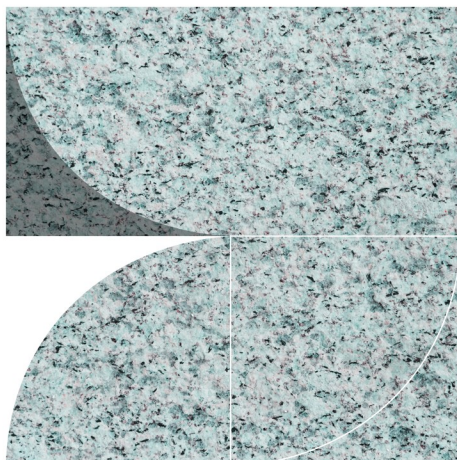

01 - Basalt

Basalt is ideal for high-traffic paving, cladding, and urban infrastructure, offering dense structure, non-slip surfaces, and low porosity for lasting performance in harsh climates.

03 - Marble

Marble combines fine grain and high workability, ideal for interiors, monuments, and restorations where craftsmanship, authenticity, and longevity are critical.

02 - Granite

Granite offers high compressive strength, abrasion resistance, and UV stability, making it a reliable choice for facades, stairways, plazas, and heavy-use public spaces.

Standard products

We do not display prices or dimensions in our standard product section - for a simple reason: we are producers, not stockholders. Whether you're selecting from our standard range or requesting a fully customized design, each order is made to specification. You're free to choose the stone type, size, thickness, and finish that best suits your needs. This flexibility ensures optimal material use, no unnecessary waste, and fair, project-specific pricing. We believe quality stone should fit your project - not the other way around.
